DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to because reference numeral “32”, referred to on page 8, line 21 of the specification is not shown in the drawings.. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract should not start off with the phrase “The present Invention”. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
3. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 8, line 23, “6A and 6B” should be “20A and 20B”. On page 9, line 8, “con” should be “can”.

Appropriate correction is required.

4. Claim 5 is objected to because of the following informalities: “show” should be “shoe”. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

6. Claims 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. It is not understood how the diameter of the air holes of the shoe are adjustable. Applicant is claiming a shoe and not a system such as a shoe and a plurality of components.

7. Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 16, the phrase “an elongated, half circular configuration” is inaccurate and indefinite. The chamber shown does not have an elongated, half circular configuration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

9. Claims 1,4-10,14-16 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US 2003/0188451 (Wu).

Wu teaches a shoe as claimed including a pumping chamber (1), a first inlet air flow valve (43) connected in the rear region of the chamber, an inlet air conduit (11,12) centrally located and extending to the toe area, a second outlet air flow valve (43'), a third and forth air conduits (channels 13) extending at a 90 degree angle from conduits 11,12 and containing a plurality of air holes (31 – the air holes are formed between the channels 13 and pad 3)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 2,3 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wu '451 in view of US 2002/0170203 (Sanner).

Wu teaches a shoe as claimed (see the rejection above) except for the pumping chamber having a plurality of shock absorbers having an elongated circular configuration. Sanner teaches a ventilating shoe wherein the pumping chamber has a plurality of shock absorbers (20) having an elongated circular configuration. It would have been obvious to provide the shoe of Wu with a plurality of shock absorbers in the pumping chambers, as taught by Sanner, to provide a better ventilation system.

Conclusion

12. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including:

-“The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references.”

--“A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section.”

-Moreover, “The prompt development of a clear issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims. Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06” MPEP 714.02. The “disclosure” includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
